THE POLITICO-PARKER.

He wants a billion dollars, sir, struck right off on the press.

He wants a million dollars quick, and not a copper less.

He wants to run his cabbage, his taters and his cats.

And other products of his farm, right into Treasury notes.

He wants to down monopolies and men who money loan.

And run the business so he'll have a big one of his own.

He wants a constitution that will give his kind a chance.

But doesn't want to work to get a new seat in his pants.

He wants to go to Washington to gnash his teeth and wait.

But doesn't want a button to replace the shingle nail.

That fastens up his galluses; nor does he want the facts.

Which prove he's not the only man who has to pay a tax.

To sum it up, this statesman wants—as others of his class—

The whole United States to be a monumental ass.

The following are the coal shipments from Pittsburgh, by river, for the past three months. The amount of coal to leave Pittsburgh the first water will reach about 8,000,000 bushels. The shipments to Cincinnati and Louisville, in bushels, were:

YEAR.	July.	August.	Sept.	Total.
1891	12,400,000	9,600,000	1,600,000	23,600,000
1890	2,750,000	90,000	None.	2,840,000
1889	20,410	2,200	4,811,000	5,033,410
1888	2,300,000	2,525,000	None.	4,825,000
1887	3,350,000	None.	None.	3,350,000

The above shows that no coal was shipped by river during August and September.

'SQUIRE (?) BRADFORD'S WORK.

How Much Longer Will He Run the Marrying Machine at Aberdeen?

A LEDGER reporter yesterday called on 'Squire (?) Harrison Bradford at his office in Aberdeen, who complacently stepped into the long worn matrimonial shoes of the late far-famed Massie Beasley.

Mr. Bradford was somewhat reluctant about conversing relative to the business in which he is at present engaged, simply saying "yes" when he was informed that the press of the whole country was questioning his legal authority, appearing to be indifferent as to the consequences which result from the union of those whom he purports to unite in legal marriage.

By the several different men who have been engaged in the business fully 12,000 couples have been united in the solemn duties of marriage, being almost exclusively runaway parties, many of whom were too young to secure license.

Many an innocent, loving girl, carried out of her teens, has been lured from the parental fold by whiskey-soaked tobacco stained old bums who have no more principal than a common cur, to live a life of misery, dejection and shame.

As we have been informed Mr. Bradford has no more authority to solemnize a marriage than a jackass, he not even being a Justice of the Peace. Is it not about time the Ohio Legislature was taking some action in this matter? Surely the people will not remain indifferent much longer and allow this misery-producing machine to run for time immemorial, spreading a boundless sea of unhappiness throughout the land.

Personally we have nothing to say about Mr. Bradford. Since he has been running the matrimonial machine he has done a land office business, having married more than seventy couples in four weeks, thus breaking the record of all his predecessors.

The sooner this thing is quashed the better it will be for the present generation as well as for the future ones.

WEATHER CROP BULLETIN.

Condition of the Small Crops Throughout Kentucky up to Yesterday.

The average temperature of the week was about four degrees above the normal, and much more than the usual amount of sunshine resulted from the generally cloudless weather which prevailed.

No rain is reported, except light showers from the Eastern sections of the state. Apart from the heavy general rains of the 13th and 14th ult., there has been practically no precipitation of consequence in the state for more than a month. This fact has rendered the soil very dry and consequently unfit for plowing and seeding, which work has been greatly delayed. Fall pastures are a little very poor, owing to the same cause. The greatest present need of farmers is an abundant rainfall.

While the conditions described have been unfavorable to the work mentioned, they have greatly hastened the maturity of corn and tobacco. The former crop is now practically safe and much of it is already cut.

The prospects for tobacco have improved materially, and everything indicates a crop of the finest quality, though it is probable that the amount will fall short of the average. About three-fourths of it has been cut, and it is thought that at the latest the entire crop will be safely housed within the next ten days. The lateness of the season has done much for the crop, but the comparatively small portion of the crop now exposed, even if it is damaged cannot materially affect the general character of the yield.

The annual meeting of the Maysville and Big Sandy Road, the Cincinnati Division of the Chesapeake and Ohio, was held at Covington Tuesday, 145,000 shares out of a total of 150,000 being represented. The following Directors were unanimously elected: M. E. Ingalls, C. P. Huntington, C. H. Coster, R. J. Cross, R. C. Rhoner, W. H. Jackson, N. R. Johnson, J. C. Davis and W. P. Anderson.

As the K. C. train which arrives at Maysville at 6 a. m. was nearing Fall Hill bridge yesterday morning, a woman was seen standing near the middle of the bridge with a jug in her hand. The engine could not be stopped before running on to the bridge. The ties project over the trestle work considerable and the lady, in presence of mind, once upon step out on the end of one of them, and escaped without injury. She thought nothing of the narrow escape, but complained about the jug which was knocked from her hand and broken to pieces.

The tobacco is about all under cover in Mason county.

The first intimation to came Wednesday in a levy of $100,000 on the property of the electric light plant at the Union station, the property of the Union Railway Co., for taxes due the city. Then the deputies swooped down on the yards of other roads centering here and in rapid succession levies were made on the rolling stock of the Pitt Four, the Pennsylvania Central, the I. D. & W. and other companies. Immediately the companies hustled around for bonds, and the Union Railway Co. appeared before Judge Taylor, of the superior court, with a petition to restrain the county treasurer from proceeding with the seizing and holding of company property.

At a late hour the court granted the injunction, expressing the opinion that the assessment of the company for taxation by the state tax commissioners was illegal because the Union Railway was not a concern operated for profit. In rendering this opinion there is an intimation that the same reasons for testing an injunction against the county treasurer would not apply to companies operated for profit. All the companies whose property was seized upon gave bonds.

A DISASTER

In a Tunnel on the Louisville and Nashville Road.

The False Frame Work Falls Upon Unfortunate Workmen.

Twenty-Five Injured, Many Very Seriously—Fighting For Life in the Darkness of the Earth's Depths—Sufferers and Wreckers Go to the Sea.

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 6.—A tunnel on the line of the Louisville and Nashville railroad at this point there occurred Wednesday night one of the most sickening accidents that has yet been chronicled in the history of the road.

As the result of the catastrophe the tunnel is blocked with fallen debris, and while a wrecking crew is digging for the dead and dying who were imprisoned when it fell. Pent up in the narrow passage-way beneath the hill the rescuers are working under difficulties, but with gratifying success.

Special trains from Louisville and Nashville brought physicians and surgeons, summoned to meet in caring for the wounded in the accident, and the neighboring farm houses were for the time converted into temporary hospitals.

So far the number of victims is estimated at twenty-five, though there may be more than that. In some of these cases three are fatal. Many of the victims are terribly cut and bruised, and the morning may see more dead men in the rooms of the sufferers.

The cause of the accident was the falling of the false work in the tunnel, which is being refitted. The contract for the work was assumed by H. H. Squire & Co., and about 150 men are employed in the task. At 5:30 p. m. the men were engaged in setting up the timber frame work known as "centering" in order to permit the north-bound train No. 6, to pass through in safety.

Just as this work was about to be completed, the framework suddenly gave way, carrying with it the men who were working among the timbers and falling upon those who were below. The timbers composing the framework are of the heaviest kind, and every man that was struck was more or less seriously injured.

In an instant the tunnel became dark. The lights being extinguished by the falling of the frame work. In the confusion the men who were working on the floor of the tunnel began to get free from the timbers that pinned them, the air being filled with the shrieks of the wounded and the groans of the dying. Those who escaped the wreck at once proceeded to the outer air to procure relief, and above all to flag the approaching train, which was due within a few minutes after the occurrence of the accident.

Under the direction of Mr. Squire, the contractor, who was present at the time of the accident but who escaped injury, the injured laborers at once began the work of rescue. Others telegraphed to Louisville, the nearest city, for surgical help. The appeal was responded to, Dr. Golden coming to the rescue. A special train was made up of coaches and an engine, and the direction of Conductor McDonald and Engineer Monahan, and he was fairly whisked, like a feather in a wind-storm, to the scene. Dr. Ferrell, who was near the scene of the accident, was also pressed into service, and the two medical men worked like Trojans among the wounded, attended by amateur assistants.

A telegram was sent to Louisville asking for help, and Dr. Roberts, the general surgeon, with a number of professional nurses and assistants, at once left on a special train, loaded with the necessities for such work. Wrecking crews have been ordered from the various stations along the line to assist in the work of clearing out the debris in the tunnel in order that any dead bodies may be removed and the line made clear for travel.

The contractors are at a loss as to the giving way of the timbers having smashed them. It is the belief of those on the ground that a high car in the train, No. 7, which was passing through the tunnel shortly before the accident, struck a projecting beam, and thus loosened the structure. When the sudden rush of men down the tunnel it gave way, thus causing the accident. Most of the victims are seriously injured, many of them having to undergo surgical operations for the amputation of their wounded limbs.

Georgia Goes Democratic. ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 6.—The democrats are in high feather over the result of the election. By returns up to midnight, which are pretty full, the estimate of 50,000 majority claimed is borne out. From every quarter come reports of Negroes voting in masses, and in some localities solidly, for the democratic ticket, owing to the popularity of Mr. Nathan among the colored people.

At Quiet Wedding. CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—Miss Jessica Newberry, daughter of Gen. Walter C. Newberry, of Chicago, was married to Robt. H. McCrory, son of Ex-Gov. McCrory, of Kentucky. The ceremony, which took place at Gen. Newberry's home, was a quiet one, owing to the recent death of the bride's mother.

The Naval Parade. NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The sub-committee on naval parade of the Columbus celebration committee has received word that from 250 to 300 steamers, tug, steam yacht, etc., will take part in the naval parade.

For the American Cup. NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—It is generally understood in yachting circles here that Lord Darnley has sent a conditional yachting challenge to the New York Yacht club for the American cup.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6.—The first snow of the season fell here Wednesday afternoon.

FAMILY WHITE-GAPPED

Because They Helped a Boycotted Neighbor Pick Cotton.

MONTE, Ala., Oct. 6.—News was received here Wednesday, giving an account of the work of white-caps near Evergreen, Sunday night. John Shilley, a farmer, with his wife and three children, was taken out and severely whipped by eight masked men. Mrs. Shilley's right arm was broken, as was her husband's left shoulder blade. A son, aged 14, was so badly beaten that he is not expected to recover. The only excuse that can be offered for the outrageous treatment of these people is the fact he loaned aid to one of his neighbors who was boycotted because of the face of the cotton. Caught like rats in a trap, they were Wednesday shot down, but not until four citizens of this place yielded up their lives in the work of extermination. Six of the gang rode into town Wednesday morning and robbed the two banks of this place.

NO MILITARY DISPLAY.

The Illinois National Guard Will No March at the Dedication.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—The Illinois national guard will not participate in the parade at the dedication of the new World's fair buildings. Although the president of the United States will be the guest of Chicago not a single man would march in the parade. The guard is to do him honor. The trouble arises over the refusal of the state authorities and the World's fair directors to defray the transportation expenses of the troops. They insist that the men shall foot the bills for their transportation. The Chicago regiments refuse to turn out unless the other regiments of the state march with them. They believe that Illinois should either have the largest military showing or none at all, and at a meeting of national guard officers it was decided to have none at all.

ONLY ADMINISTRATOR.

Carnegie Declares, in His of the Wealth Estate.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Mrs. Carnegie Wednesday laid the cornerstone of the Memorial library in Ayer, Illinois, presented to the city by Andrew Carnegie. The latter was present also and gave a general address.

"I feel more strongly bound than ever to the welfare of the people of my life to aims ending in less to self and more to others, using my surplus wealth and spare time in the manner of the great benefactors of the world to the masses of the people. From the masses comes the wealth which is entrusted to the owner only as administrator."

Met Over Ownership Settled.

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 6.—The supreme court of Iowa has affirmed the Winnebago motor case. In May, 1890, an estate was left to the late John H. Goddard, a farmer of Iowa. Goddard had a son, John, who lived on his land it became his. The district court decided in Goddard's favor, holding that the son was the owner of the land. The defense was that it was a mortgage, and being unclaimed by the landowner, belonged to the finder.

Piping Hot Water.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 6.—Boles is to be heated by hot water, and in that respect will be the most remarkable city in the world. About a mile from the city a great system of boiling water gush out of several deep artesian wells. The water possesses no medicinal value, and heretofore has been used only for heating. Now it is to be piped into the city and the hot water will be placed in residences and houses. The cost, it is estimated, will be per cent less than with coal.

DALTON GANG.

"Bob," Their Leader, Two of His Brothers.

And Several of Their Pals Shot Down by a posse.

A Daring Attempt of the Gang to Loot in Daylight Two Banks in Coffeyville, Kan.—Four of the Attacking Party Lost Their Lives.

COFFEYVILLE, Kan., Oct. 6.—The Dalton gang has been exterminated—wiped off the face of the earth. Caught like rats in a trap, they were Wednesday shot down, but not until four citizens of this place yielded up their lives in the work of extermination. Six of the gang rode into town Wednesday morning and robbed the two banks of this place.

Their raid had become known to the officers of the law, and when the bandits attempted to escape they were attacked by the marshal's posse. In the battle which ensued four of the bandits were killed outright and one was so badly wounded that he has since succumbed to his wounds. The other escaped, but is being hotly pursued. Of the attacking party four were killed, one was fatally wounded and two were seriously wounded. The bandits were shot through the head.

Bob Dalton, desperado; shot through the head. Emmet Dalton, desperado; shot through the left side.

Joseph Evans, desperado; shot through the head. John Moore—"Texas Jack"—desperado; shot through the head.

T. C. Connelly, city marshal; shot through the body. L. M. Baldwin, bank clerk; shot through the head.

G. W. Cabine, merchant; shot through the head. C. J. Brown, shoe-maker; shot through the body.

Thos. G. Ayres, cashier First national bank, was shot through the groin and can not live.

T. A. Reynolds, of the attacking party, has a wound in the right breast, but it is not considered necessarily dangerous.

Luis Dietz, another of the attacking party, was shot in the right side. His wound is serious one, but is not fatal. It had been rumored a month ago that the Dalton gang was contemplating an immediate raid upon the banks of Coffeyville. Arrangements were made to give them a warm reception, and for over a week a patrol was maintained night and day to give warning of the gang's approach. The raid did not take place, and then came the report from Deming, N. M., that United States officers had a battle with the bandits and that three of the bandits had been killed. This report was believed here to have been circulated by all the banks of the town. It was intended to divert attention from their real intentions and to lull the people of the town into a sense of security. The people, however, were not easily deceived, and when the report of the disaster to the gang in New Mexico was denied, vigilance was renewed. Still the expected raid was not made.

The Dalton boys were born and bred in this vicinity, and were well known to nearly every citizen of the town. In their progress through the town they had been recognized. City Marshal Connelly was quickly notified of their arrival, and almost before the bandits had entered the bank he was collecting a posse to capture them if possible, to kill them if necessary.
